

Civil Engineer: 2 Positions

Employer: Leask Marine Ltd. Wales

Location: Wales Office Base: working in wider United Kingdom / England / Scotland / Northern Ireland

Salary: Negotiable

Role Summary

Leask Marine are seeking candidates who are currently based in Wales or are willing to work in Wales to join our expanding team.

We are seeking Civil Engineers at all levels and welcome all applications.

Key Duties:

The Civil Engineer typically will have responsibility for design of some civils projects, preparation of RAMS for works being carried out, for the site supervision activities in relation to civil works for the project and his duties shall include:

- Reporting to the Lead Engineer
- Liaison with the other members of the Engineer Team
- Reporting to Employer's Representative
- Deal with contractual matters on site related to civil works
- Coordinating Contract interfaces with respect to civil works
- Assessment of Contractor claims and writing reports on same
- Assessment of Contractor payment applications against work completed
- Assessment of Contractor performance against Contractual KPI's
- Assessment of Contractor submissions including method statements, risk assessments and preparation of clear comments
- Review Contractor design submissions against Employers' requirements and preparation of clear comments
- Supervision of the works, keeping records, measuring, managing correspondence, and contractual documentation
- Other duties as may be assigned.

Qualifications and Key Experience Required:

- Hold a degree in Engineering or an equivalent professional qualification in Engineering
- Have a satisfactory knowledge of civil engineering works, concrete construction, steel fabrication and project management
- Have a satisfactory knowledge of construction contracts and CDM Regs
- Attention to detail and ability to comply with Quality Assurance Management Systems is essential
- Proficient in Microsoft Office packages such as Project, Excel and Word
- Proficient in Project Management software packages
- Proficient in design packages such as Autocad or similar

To have a confidential discussion about this role or other opportunities with Leask Marine then contact me on

Email info@leaskmarine.com

A great opportunity for an enthusiastic and self-motivated Civil Engineer to join a successful, well-established contractor.

You can expect to work on an interesting variety of challenging project work with clients in the construction industry and Marine Renewables Industry

Requirements:

- BEng, BSc or similar level qualification in Civil/Structural Engineering and/or a HNC/HND with relevant knowledge gained in a design office environment
- Minimum 10 years relevant work experience
- Self-motivated and able to work well on their own
- Excellent written and oral communication skills
- Ability to design projects towards technical approval
- Liaison with client, engineers, design team, and contractors
- Attend technical meetings
- Assist technicians as and when required

Benefits:

This is a part time post with provision to becoming a permanent position, offering a competitive salary

Must be eligible to live and work in the UK

Job Type: Part Time with potential to becoming Full-Time